

Streamlined care coming to OSF Cancer Center in Danville

Run time - :35

LEDE: Patients at OSF HealthCare Hegeler Cancer Center in Danville, Illinois, will soon have a more comfortable and streamlined experience. Tim Ditman has more.

~~~

750-thousand-dollars of renovations over five months will see three more patient rooms, better privacy for infusion bays, and more.

Doctor JoMel Labayog is the cancer center's medical director.

SOUNDBITE: "When people come here, they know we're comprehensive. We're compassionate. We're professional. We have the facilities that can accommodate care for most diseases. So, not only do the patients feel comfortable, but the family feels confident that their loved ones are taken care of."

I'm Tim Ditman.

~~~

TAG: Patient care will continue at the cancer center during renovations.