

Transcript of added media clips with Dr. John Vozenilek, vice president/chief medical officer, OSF Innovation and Digital Health

ARC partnership will benefit OSF patients

“With the partnership that we're engaging in in Chicago, we're going to have access to some of the world's highest (level) and best innovators. We're going to have access to new technologies that have been developed for rural and urban communities to help to address patient's needs at home and when they're in the hospital.” (:19)

OSF brings unique expertise & technology to ARC partnership

“Our discovery labs are constantly partnering to create new technologies, addressing problems and challenging areas such as surgical preparation, in the care of children in the care of neuro health in rural communities in Data Science and Artificial Intelligence. We're bringing our solutions also to the Chicago Art collaborative, to see how we can impact patients across the world.” (:21)

OSF HealthCare offers unique rural health care perspective

“Our patients have particular constraints, particular needs, and those needs drive problem statements that can be solved through innovation. And Chicago arc wants to partner up with us to solve for those problems.” (:14)