(May 24, 2017 | Dwight, IL) – As part of its ongoing investment in central Illinois, OSF HealthCare broke ground on its newest primary care project on Wednesday.

The new primary care office will be located at 107 Watters Drive in Dwight, IL. It will include primary care and rehabilitative care, imaging and laboratory services, nine exam rooms, and two OSF HealthCare providers.

Wednesday's groundbreaking included remarks from community leaders from the village of Dwight, as well as OSF HealthCare leadership.

"We are thrilled to increase the OSF HealthCare footprint in the Village of Dwight." said Brad Solberg, President of OSF Saint James-John W. Albrecht Medical Center in Pontiac. "There is a direct correlation between access to primary care and a community's overall health. This is a great addition that will further enhance the quality of life for residents here by providing that access."

The $3 million, 8,000 square foot OSF HealthCare building is expected to be completed in December of 2017.
