

COVID's razor: What to know this fall

SOT

Dr. Fred Burke

OSF HealthCare emergency medicine physician

"You're less likely to want to eat or drink, which can lead to further dehydration." (:06)

SOT

Dr. Fred Burke

OSF HealthCare emergency medicine physician

"The average healthy person might get through it with some [figurative] bumps and bruises and little to no symptoms. For people with comorbidities or who are immunocompromised, the virus might be a little bit more detrimental." (:17)

SOT

Dr. Fred Burke

OSF HealthCare emergency medicine physician

"If you're going to have a gathering, whether at home or somewhere else, you can also recommend people take a home test to make sure they don't have COVID prior to going." (:13)