

Bob Sehring – CEO, OSF HealthCare

Why OSF HealthCare wanted to participate in the national campaign

This is across the country the greatest opportunity to slow the spread of it. And you can look to that in the systems that are participating, those outstanding healthcare systems from across the country coming together in support of wearing a mask, in support of social distancing, in support of reduced gatherings especially indoors. Being part of that illustrious group is certainly, I think, proof positive about the importance of our role in helping stop the spread of this virus over the coming months. :35

We can't stress enough the importance of wearing a mask to help curb the spread of COVID-19

We certainly want to do everything that we can to keep people safe, as safe as we can, keep our hospitals open and treating patients ALL patients because COVID is not the only disease that we see. We want to make sure that our hospitals are open. That's where it comes back to the greatest importance that we can do it all of the Communities both here in Illinois and up in Michigan is wear a mask, keep social distancing, not gather in large groups especially indoors, all of that contributes to the aggressive spread of the virus. :35
