

Transcript of Video/Audio Clips for Grant Helps OSF Tackles Breast Cancer Screening & Treatment Disparities

SOT-Dr. Sarah Stewart deRamirez-VP & Chief Medical Officer, Clinical Innovation, OSF HealthCare

“We decided we wanted to take on the disparities we see between rural and urban, between race and ethnicity amongst our patients and really try to reduce those disparities and bring up the level of both screening mammograms and ultimately life expectancy around individuals diagnosed with breast cancer.” (:19)

SOT-Dr. Sarah Stewart deRamirez-VP & Chief Medical Officer, Clinical Innovation, OSF HealthCare

“So depending on how much money you make and the insurance you get, that ultimately determines the rate at which people are able to access mammograms as well as access treatment and ultimately survive or die from breast cancer.” (:20)

SOT-Dr. Sarah Stewart deRamirez-VP & Chief Medical Officer, Clinical Innovation, OSF HealthCare

(Bonus Clip)-Talks about the importance of collecting data in connection with research with Harvard University School of Public Health

“What this will allow us to do is understand more the right mix of tools to use to reach out when we really want to make sure to use when we are targeting disparity gaps and improving the health of the population as a whole.” (:20)

SOT-Abby Lotz -VP & Chief Nursing Officer-Digital Health Care, OSF Saint Gabriel Digital Health

“Do people want to stand and talk to someone at a health fair? Do they want to connect with their digital health worker in their community one-on-one? Do they want to connect passively through the health applications or messaging functions and we’ll make sure we’re using all of those approaches to meet them where they are.” (:20)

SOT-Abby Lotz -VP & Chief Nursing Officer-Digital Health Care, OSF Saint Gabriel Digital Health

“I think that we don’t give each generation enough credit. I think technology is so widely adopted but we need to support that. We need to continually upscale our communities to help them with that adoption and we want to be the trusted partner to help them do that.” (:18)